

Notice for a reward for finding a mourning ring which was lost in the neighbourhood of Oakfield Place, Glasgow

© Glasgow University Library

LOST,

A DIAMOND MOURNING RING,

In the Neighbourhood of Oakfield Place,
Blythswood Hill, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'Clock this Afternoon.

Any Person having Found the same, by Returning it to Messrs. JOHN SMITH & SON,
BOOKSELLERS, 70, St. Vincent-Street, will be
*SUITABLY REWARDED.

GLASGOW, 2d January, 1839.

Inspiration

- What does the ring look like? Describe it.
- Who has lost it?
- Who is being mourned?
- Is there some significance to the ring beyond it being a mourning ring?
- How was the ring lost?
- What was happening in the Neighbourhood of Oakfield Place, Blythswood Hill between the hours of two and three in the afternoon?
- Imagine you find the ring?
- Try and turn a story about the lost ring into a poem or 'nursery rhyme'.